OUR NEW INTRODUCTIONS

LAS LAURELES

picture. It performed well for Mr. Lynn B. Dudley in Eastern trials and is included in his 1956 Roll of Honor in Flower Grower.

LAS LAURELES — Semi-cactus. Lively salmon or coral pink lightly suffused with pale gold. We are very happy to be able to offer this season a very large pink semi-cactus. Because of its free blooming habit on long strong stems and good keeping qualities it will be very useful for exhibiting in quantity. In the garden it was among the most impressive we grow and we grow almost all of the best varieties from far and near. A conservative estimate of the size of the bloom is about 12x7. A true semi-cactus of excellent formation as you will note from the accompanying Strong Divisions — $15.00 Net.

ROSARIO

ROSARIO — Formal Decorative. Clear true lavender throughout the flower but shading to white at the base of the petals. Good lavender dahlias in recent years have been uncommon and this one is large, well formed and has good growing habits. It is definitely formal and its classification will not be questioned. Both of our introductions this year are from the seedling patch of E. H. Magnuson, our friend and helper for many years, who has been very ill but is now, we are glad to report, well on the way to recovery.

N.B. Our listings this year differ so little from those of 1955 that we are issuing only a supplement describing our new introductions this time.

THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL CATALOGUE

BALLAY DAHLIA GARDENS

4309 El Camino Real
PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

PLEASE NOTE—When ordering please write NAME and ADDRESS plainly, also state date delivery is desired. It is better not to have roots delivered until you are ready to use them. As the stock of some varieties is limited and the demand this year is heavy, it is well to name some second choices. We do not substitute without permission. All shipments prior to April 1st, except on the Pacific Coast, are sent by Express Collect to insure against freezing. We do not sell green plants. Prices listed are for strong field-grown root divisions. Where air mail delivery is requested, unless remittance includes the extra charge for this service, request will not be complied with.

TERMS—CASH WITH ORDER or before date of shipment. On retail orders for California delivery 3% Sales Tax should be added to the amount to comply with the Sales Tax Law. We guarantee that all roots sent are true to name and in good growing condition, but beyond this assume no responsibility. All orders are accepted with this provision.

EXPLANATION OF TYPES—

Informal Decorative (I.D.). Double flowers, full to the center, usually long irregular petals.

Formal Decorative (F.D.). Double flowers, full to the center, usually with broad flat petals.

Cactus (C.). Double flowers, full to the center, with long, narrow, pointed petals, incurved, recurved or straight, and rolled at least half their length.

Semi-Cactus (S.C.). Double flowers, full to the center, with coarse, twisted petals, usually somewhat incurved, and rolled ordinarily less than half their length.

OUR NEW INTRODUCTIONS FOR 1955

SEQUOIA—Informal Decorative. Primrose yellow. This year we are offering a new dahlia that is definitely on the superlative side. It is probably as large as any dahlia in existence and without faults; similar in many respects to Croyden Masterpiece except color. Picture on front cover is that of a 15-inch bloom. Note great wealth of petalage. The deep compact center holds until bloom is fully matured and weather conditions do not mar the long-lasting flower. Must be seen to be appreciated and our visitors were not lacking in enthusiasm. We think it is the finest dahlia in the Gaylord series since Frieda Gaylord. Color is uncommon, stem perfect and habit of growth all that can be expected. As we have often stated before, we do not exaggerate when introducing a new variety: Received a Certificate of Merit at the new A.D.S. California Trial Gardens but was not in bloom in time to be entered in our early San Francisco show.

10.00

YOSEMITE—Informal Decorative. Shadings of apricot, deepening at center, with a metallic lustre over all that makes it distinctive. This flower has about as much diameter as the one described above, but formation is different with broader petals, and there is not as much depth. It is a prolific bloomer and so, as can be imagined, is very spectacular in the garden. Illustration on front cover gives a good idea of its attractive appearance. We specialize in dahlias of giant size and our introductions this year are not lacking the necessary requirements. Do not misunderstand us, however. We fully realize size is not enough if other qualities are lacking. We await with great interest the reaction of our customers who have grown our new varieties through many years. Strong Divisions

TAHOE

OTHER DAHLIAS OF OUR OWN INTRODUCTION

ALCAZAR—S.C. Deep fuchsia red or bright reddish purple. It belongs in the purple class according to the color chart, and the formation of the flower is frequently very close to the true cactus type. A nice large dahlia outstanding as to beauty and distinctiveness that blooms early and freely on the best of stems $2.50

ARGUELLO—I.C. Deep cherry red with silvery reverse, velvet-like texture. This beautifully colored dahlia is a large true type cactus with petals rolled their entire length. Ideal growing plant with extra strong straight stems. A 1953 introduction that has already proven its worth in many places. One of the finest of recent years $7.50

AZURA—I.D. Rosy lilac with a bluish-violet sheen. A large deep flower which has won as largest flower in the show with blooms measuring 12 to 14 inches. Plant is tall and strong and the blooms have a distinctive and interesting formation. Old but good..... $1.50

BALLAY ROUGE—I.C. Bright clear red. Fine petalled true type cactus in a very popular color. Size is large for a cactus, excellent form, perfect stems..... $2.00

BEAU BRILLIANT—I.D. Bright carmine. A truly brilliant color that is impressive both in the garden and show room. It is a large full flower, a profuse bloomer, and the plant growth is all that can be desired. Seems to thrive under all weather conditions..... $2.00

BOSPHORUS—I.D. Burnt orange. Large, well-shaped flower of rare coloring. Reliable and satisfactory in all respects..... $1.00

BUTTERFLY—I.D. Henna-orange with reverse and center rosy mauve. The odd combination of color is new and has been the subject of much favorable comment. It is a large, well-formed flower with pointed petals, reliable and attractive. Prolific bloomer..... $2.50

ARGUELLO

CAPISTRANO

CALIFORNIA CENTENNIAL—I.D. Buff yellow with the color somewhat accentuated at the center. An oval shaped bloom of large size which is a seedling of California Pageant. LELAND STANFORD—I.D. Brilliant cardinal. One of the best reds. Does not fade and will withstand difficult conditions. Large size, robust grower.....$1.00

MAESTRO—S.C. Purple cerise. A richly-colored large flower of remarkable substance and most pleasing appearance. All good qualities and highly recommended$1.50

MARK TWAIN—I.D. Bright red boldly tipped white. This appears definitely to be the best bi-color of them all. There is no variation in the blooms, about one-third of each petal at the tip being of purest white. Average size 10 to 11 inches. We have received many flattering reports on its performance.....$3.50

MONTEZUMA—S.C. Reddish copper or terra cotta. A giant semi-cactus on the type of Confucius. The big, bold flower has depth as well as diameter and the color is attractive and unusual.....$2.00

CALIFORNIA CENTENNIAL

CALIFORNIA PAGEANT

NIGHTINGALE—F.D. Deep magenta rose shading somewhat lighter at the tips of the petals. The color is generally referred to as fuchsia. A truly spectacular flower and strictly of the formal type. Better proportioned stems and more rugged-plant growth would be hard to find. Large size.....$2.50

NINA WARREN—S.C. Bright rosy purple. A nice purple semi-cactus of large size. The rather tall plant is a mass of blooms all season. Will thrive in warm weather and is not improved by shading or covering. Named for the wife of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who called it her favorite color.....$3.50

PACIFIC SPLENDOR—I.D. Delicate pink shading to white center. Artistic bloom of large size. A delightful color when properly grown. Habits of growth are good$1.00

ROYAL PACIFIC—F.D. Violet purple of the blue tone. A true formal that is outstanding because of its rare and distinctive coloring. Long, strong stems hold the flowers perfectly above the dark ornamental foliage. A continuous performer. Large$2.50

SATAN—S.C. Flaming red, gold center. A great dahlia that is known wherever dahlias are grown. Greatest prize winner of its day.....$1.00

SAVINA—I.C. Bright salmon shading to golden yellow. A husky growing plant producing nice large cactus blooms on good stems. Color is very pleasing and strikes the popular fancy. Well worthwhile if you are fond of cactus type$2.50

TAHOE—I.C. Apricot shading to yellow. Petals are very narrow and completely rolled with a spider-like formation resembling the new popular spider chrysanthemums. Good size and good stems. A real novelty.....$7.50

TORCH—St.C. Lemon yellow liberally tipped cherry red. This is a "B size" cactus of good form. Its chief merit lies in its most unusual combination of color. Numerous blooms fairly cover the plant the entire season which must be disbudded for best results. New 1954.....$5.00

FRIEDA GAYLORD

FORTY-NINER

YANKEE DOODLE—I.D. Fuchsia purple with crimson shadings. Giant size, rare coloring, good habits. An ideal exhibition dahlia. Not particularly recommended for climates where the summers are extremely hot and dry.....$2.50

CARE OF DAHLIAS

(in California)

Plant dahlia roots in May. Have the soil dug deep and well worked beforehand. Place a stake at each place, dig a hole deep enough so that the root can be covered 4 or 5 inches, and leave a wide basin 2 or 3 inches deep for watering. Lay roots flat, never on end. Plant 2½ to 3 feet apart. Water well as soon as planted and about once a week until plants are well above ground. Irrigate thoroughly about twice a week when plants are growing strong and blooming. If plants are topped when about a foot high it will cause them to branch and make a sturdier growth. Larger blooms and better stems may be had by disbudding. Leave large center bud and take off small side buds and sprouts above leaves for 2 or 3 joints. Use fertilizer sparingly. The time to fertilize is when plants are topped. Spray with a nicotine or other garden spray to prevent leaf pests the same as for other garden plants. Use ant poisons to keep ants from the patch. Dust with sulphur to control mildew. For a long season of bloom keep old flowers with foliage cut off and be sure to keep well watered at all times. Dahlias like an open, sunny location away from the roots of trees and shrubs. Do not dig clumps until about the first of the year, leave soil on them, and store in a dry, frost-proof shed. Cut off dry stalks, stack together and cover with old bags or something of the kind. Wash and divide carefully at planting time.

DAHLIAS AS CUT FLOWERS—It is better to cut them in the early morning or late evening. A fully matured bloom will last better than a young tender one. Removing large leaves from the stems will add to the keeping qualities. Dip the tips of the stems 2 or 3 inches deep in boiling water for a couple minutes and then place immediately in a vessel of deep cold water. Setting the flowers outside at night and giving them fresh water every day or two has been found helpful. In warm weather a piece of ice placed in the vase seems to help. On exhibition tables flowers are freshened by spraying lightly with cold water occasionally during the day. A few varieties are naturally poor keepers and flowers grown in the shade or forced so as to have too soft a growth are difficult to keep, especially in hot weather. In late years nice arrangements are being made with blooms on short stems floated in bowls or trays, which will last for a long time.
